Movies Hub Club

Movies Hub Club is a club for all movies lover it's like community for users that loves movies a lot so we have users and each user can register so he has his own account then he can login to be able to make a posts about his a movie that he had watched also other users can interact with his post with comments , user can make Crud operations for his own posts

There is another type of user which is an admin user that has full control on the website so the admin can edit Posts or delete Posts and also can make Movie Posts .

Each user has first name , last name , email , group of posts and interactions if found ex comments

Each post include info which is user name with his profile image with time creation of the post , description for the movie and movie picture and that will be posted community section

Also we will redesign the landing page to be the home and if the user is not logged in so in the nav bar he should see button for login or signup .

If the user is not signed in and wants to go to the community page he will be redirect to login page.

If the user type is admin he has a full control in the website and more

Small description for the website

First we will be in the landing page witch it is the home
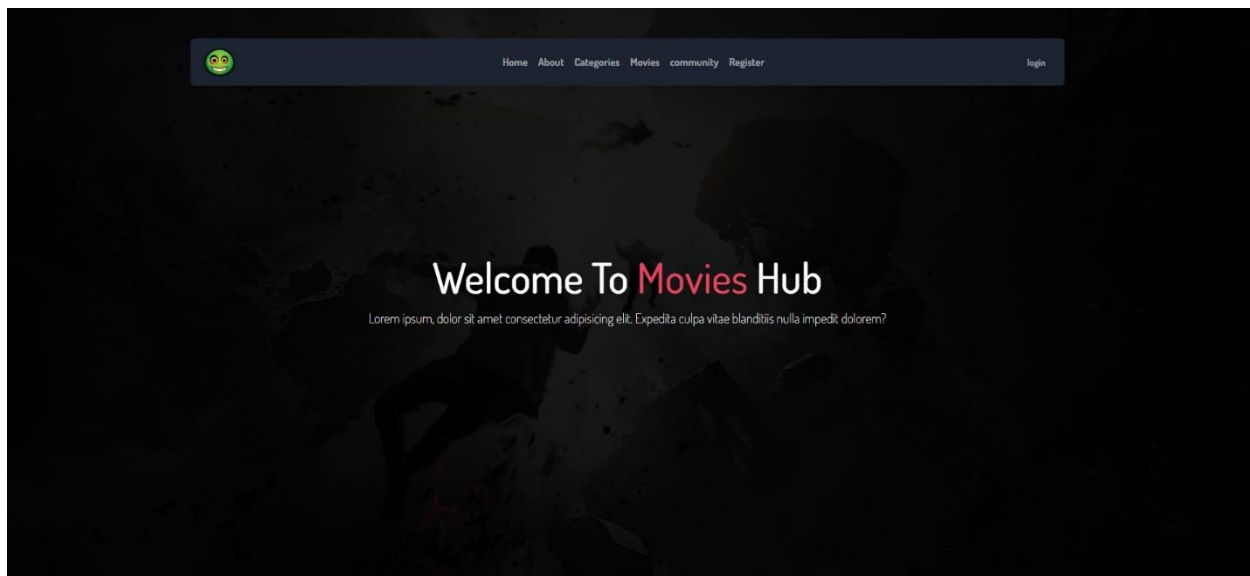

Now if we click on community or login it will redirect us to login page to login and if we don't have account we can click on register to make new account now we will try to make new account and log in with it and also if we remember that we have account we can click on already have account bottom it will redirect us to login page

When we click on register it redirect us hear in registration page now we can add all our info

After we write all the info we can click on signup bottom to save the new user
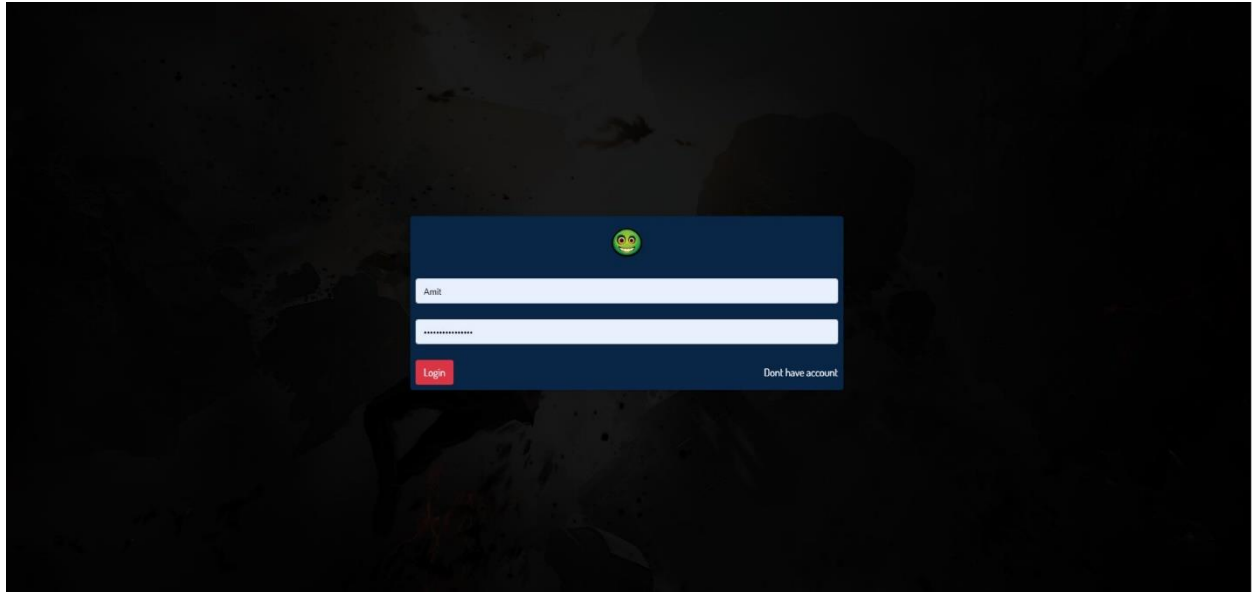

Now we can login in the website
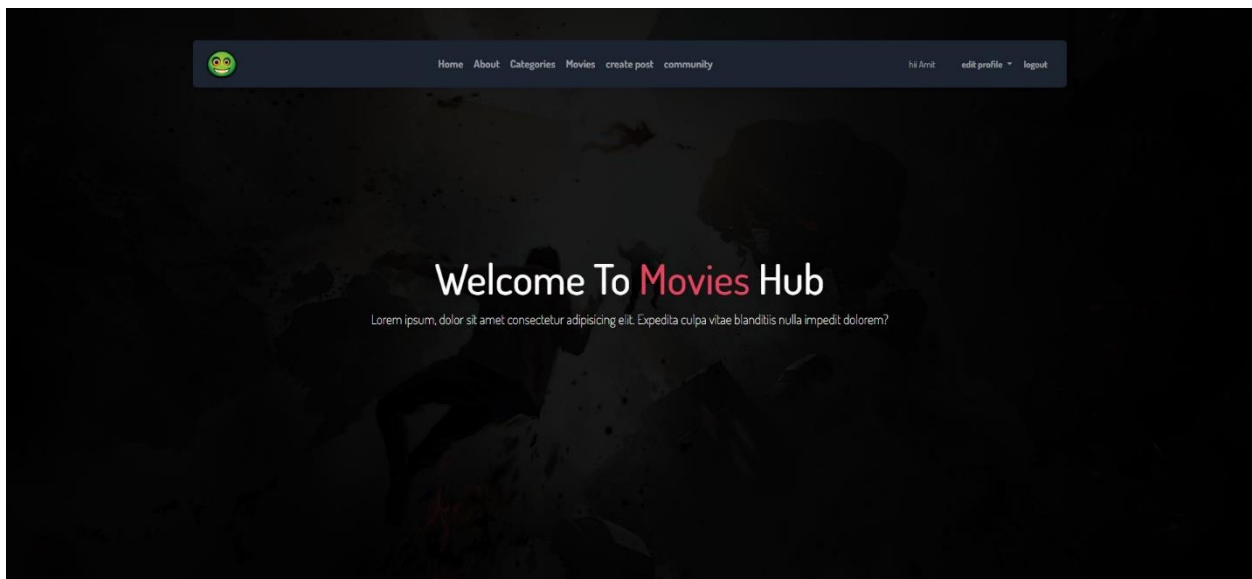

And booooom we are in

We have two types login as user and login as admin

As user

Her we can see that the user name is George but its is only text

As admin

As we see her the difference when admin log in the color changed and its clickable if we click on it will redirect you to the djando administration page

As we said the admin can make crud operation for any post

When we click on the community section in the nave bar he will send us to the community page

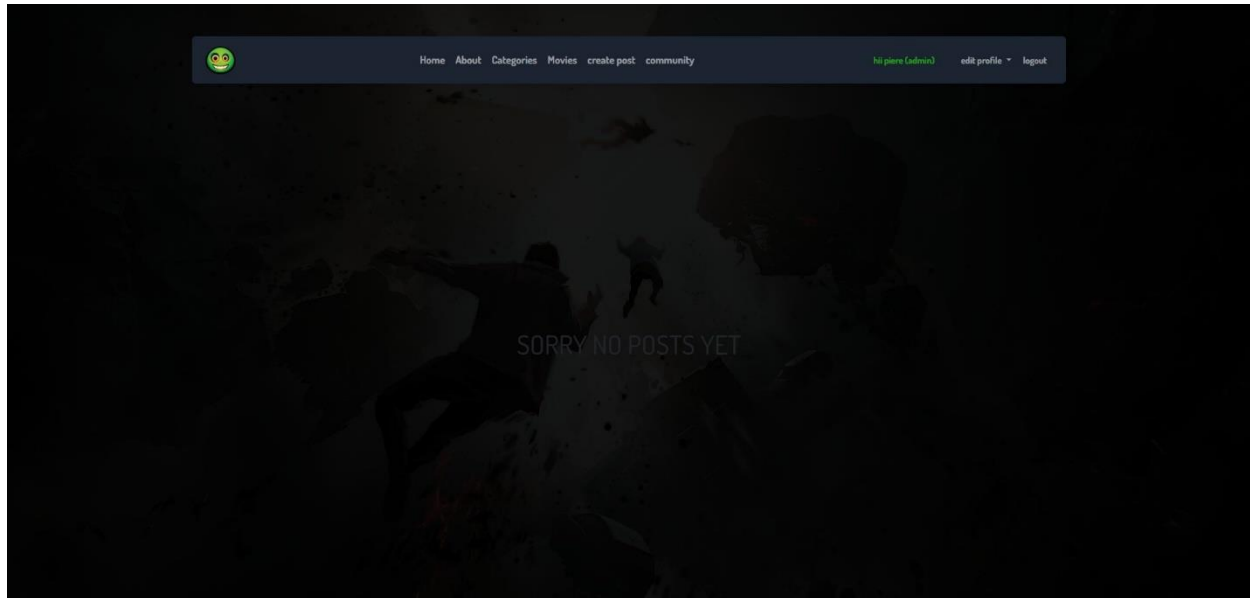

Now we doesn't have any posts yet we can add post by clicking on create post section on the navbar
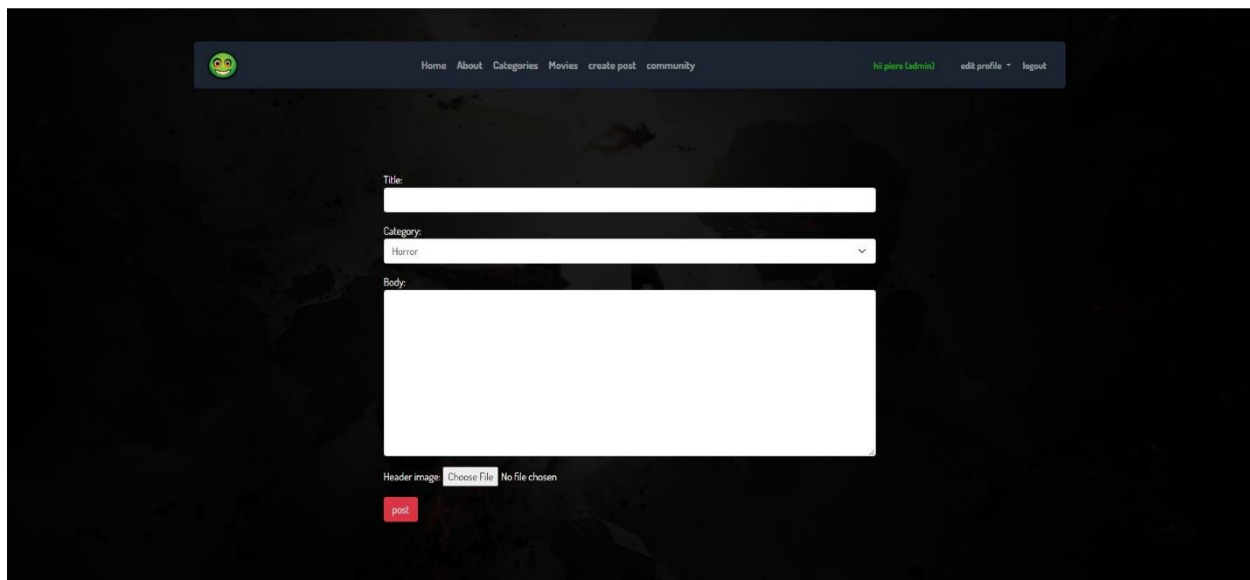

Now we can add post by adding the title of the movies name and chose the Category so we can filter the movies to categories and the body that you will give your opinion in the movie you have watched after we add all the information we click post it will redirect us to the community page
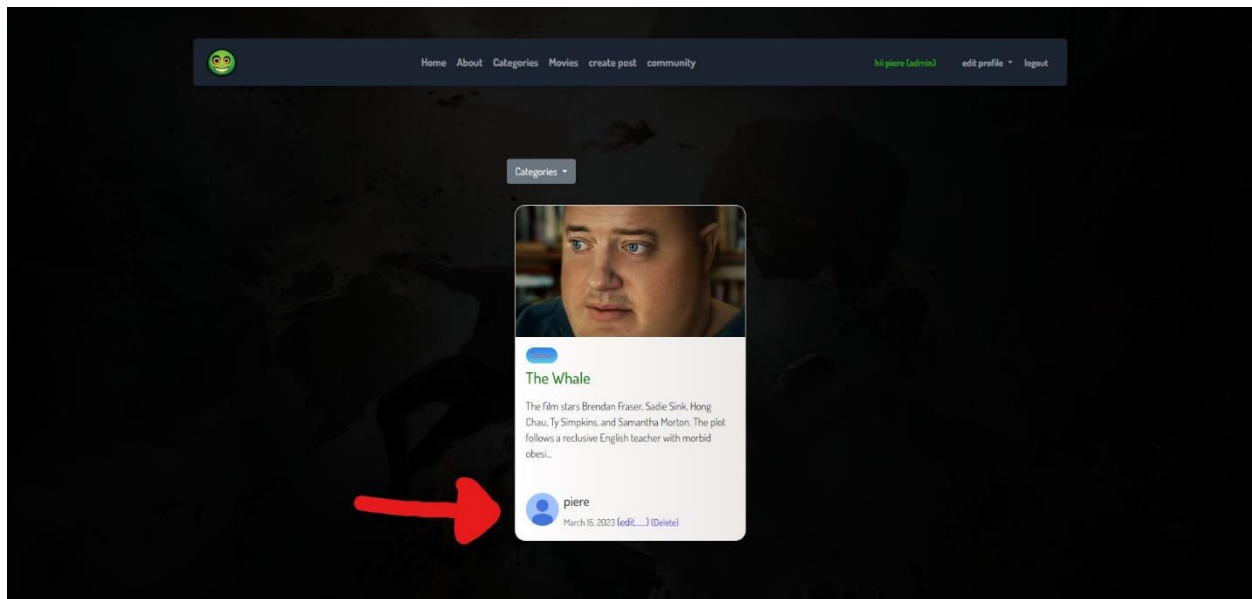

As we can see their is no img hear this is the default img if we want to add our new img we can click on edit profile in the top right of the nav bar

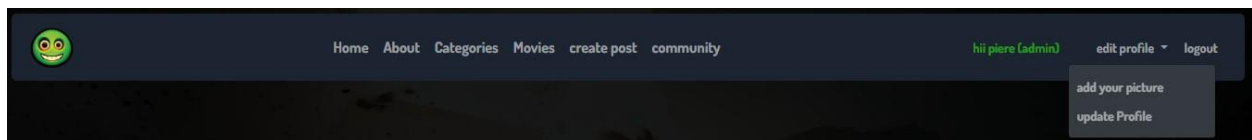

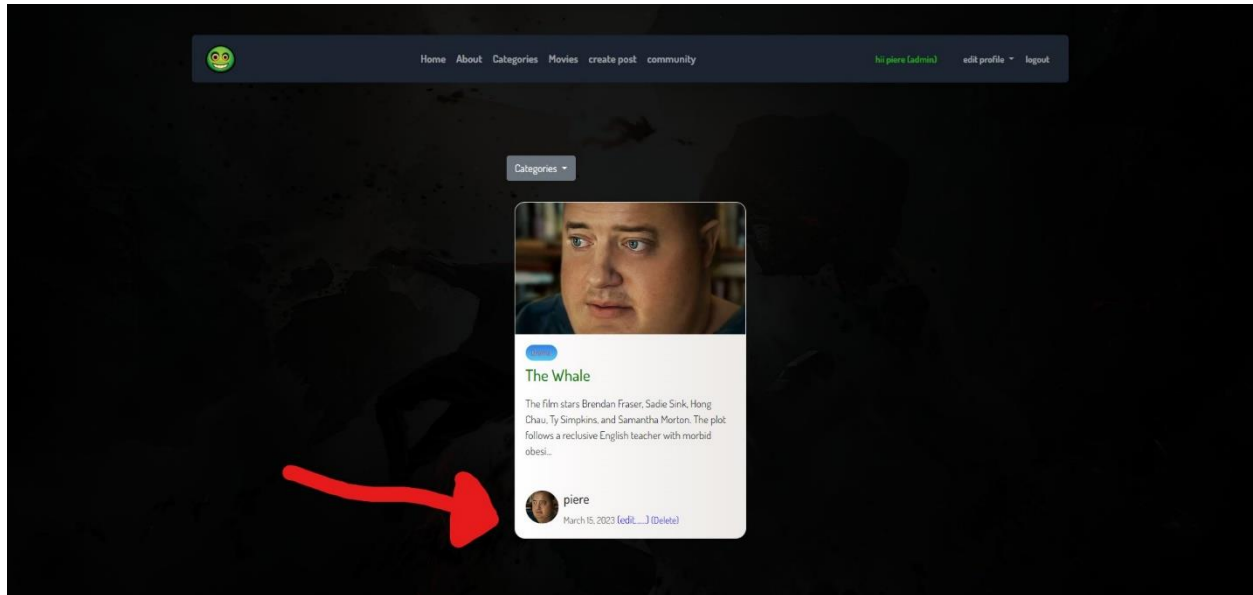

it is a drop down menu we then will click on add your picture
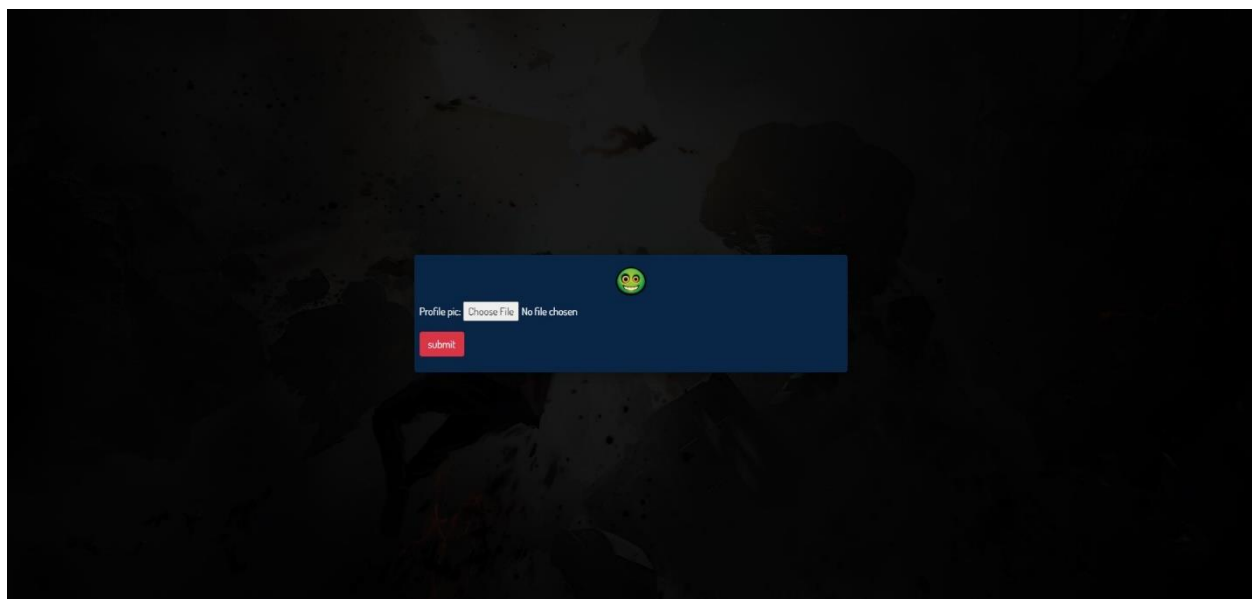

This page will allow us to add new img to the user we will need to upload any img and click submit
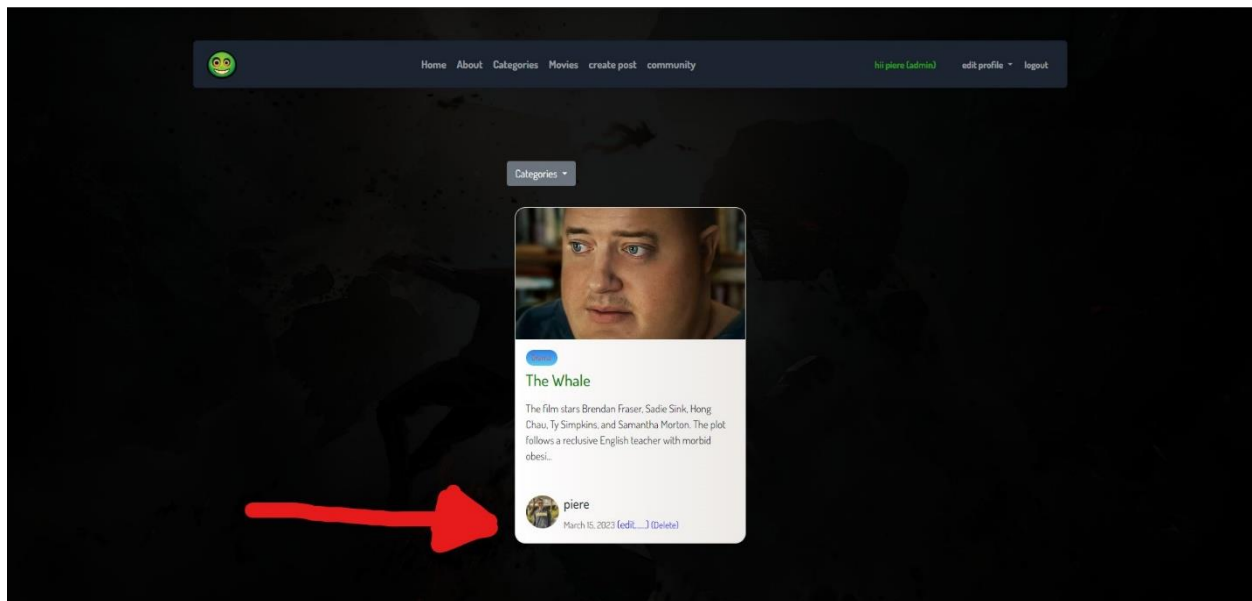

And it will redirect us to the community page

Now we will see that the img has bed added but what if we want to change the img we can go again to the edit profile menu

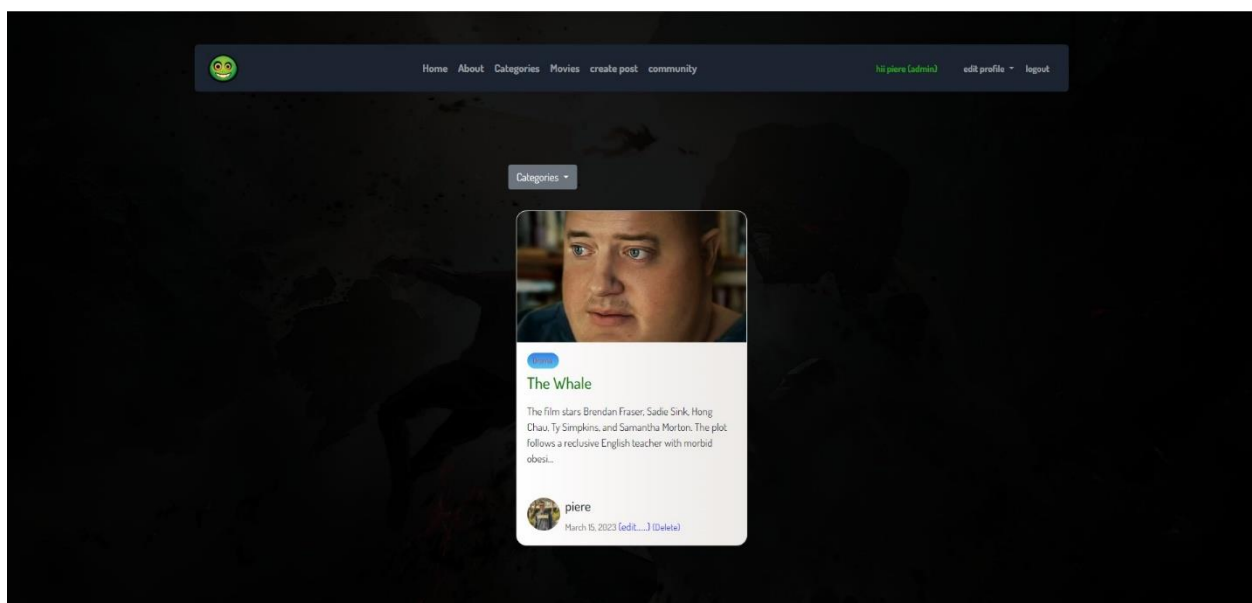

We will see that the add your picture is disappeared and the edit your picture is popped in if we click on it will redirect us to the edit picture page
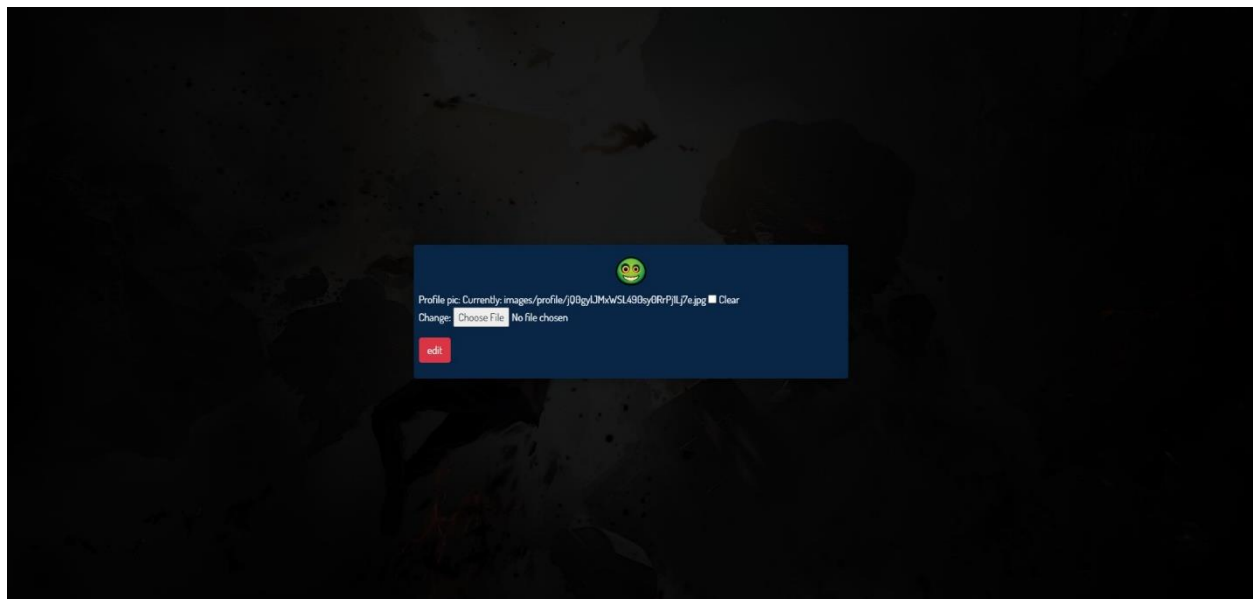

Now we can chose the new img and click edit it will redirect us to the community bage

We can see the new img after edit is added

Now we are in the community page we can see we have a categories drop dowen menu we can choose any category we want or we can click the little blue bottom in the cart with category name

It will redirect us to all post that is in the drama section and we can see a two small bottom on the right of the photo and name and date creation we have edit and delete bottoms if we click on edit it will send us to edit page of the post
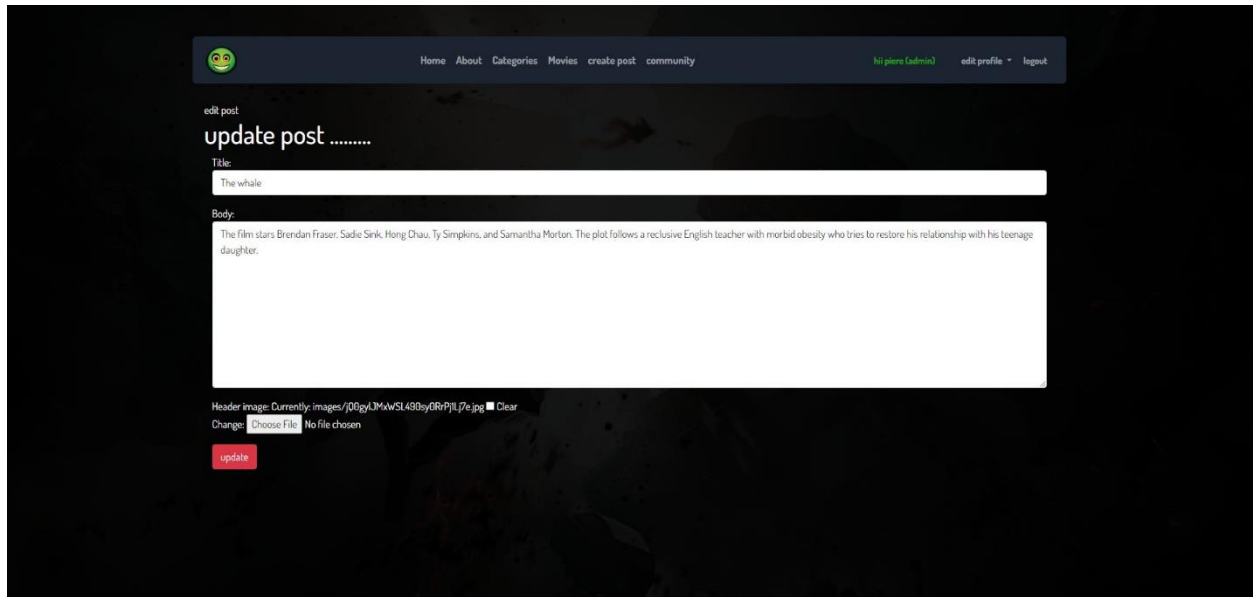

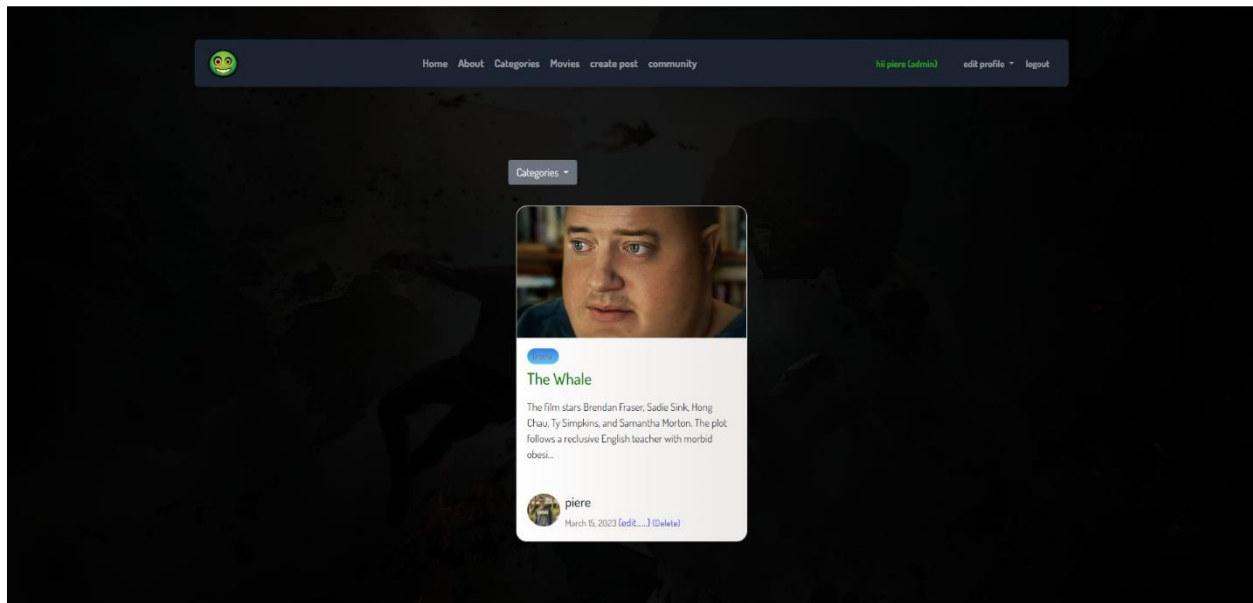

We can change the title or the body or the img and then click update it will redirect us again to the community page

And if we click on delete bottom it will send us to delete post page
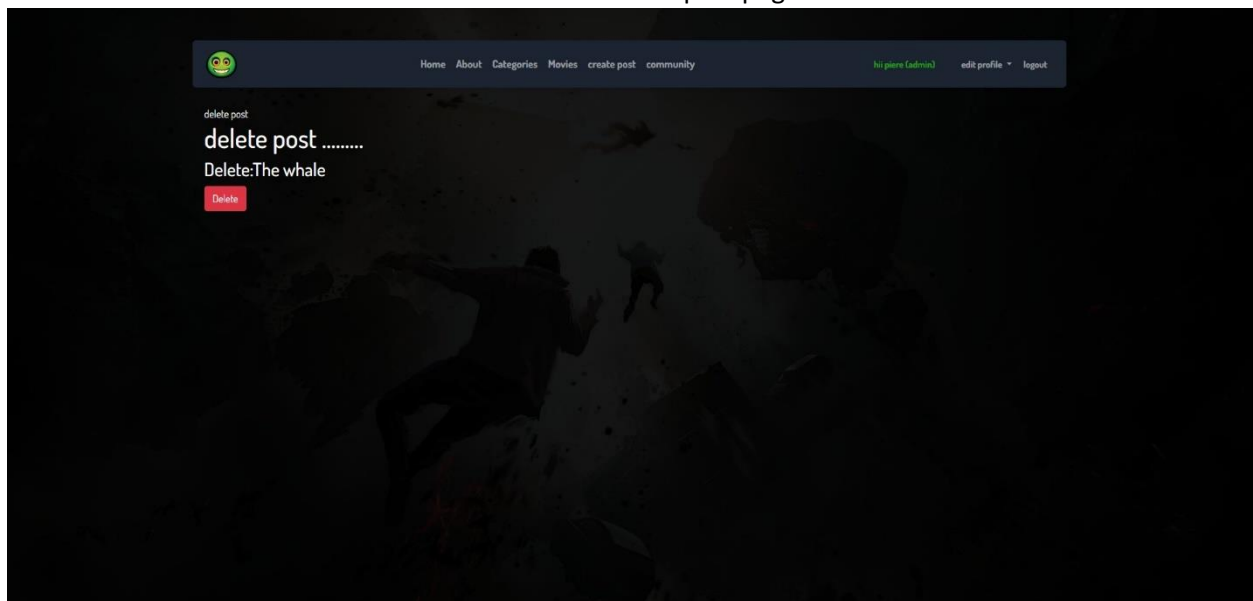

This badge does't have much but we can see the title of the post by clicking on delete bottom it will delete the post with all comments and info and redirect to the community page

Again to the community page we have img of the move and the title of the movie if we click on any of them we will to the detail view page that we can see all the body of the movie and we can interact with the post buy making a comments

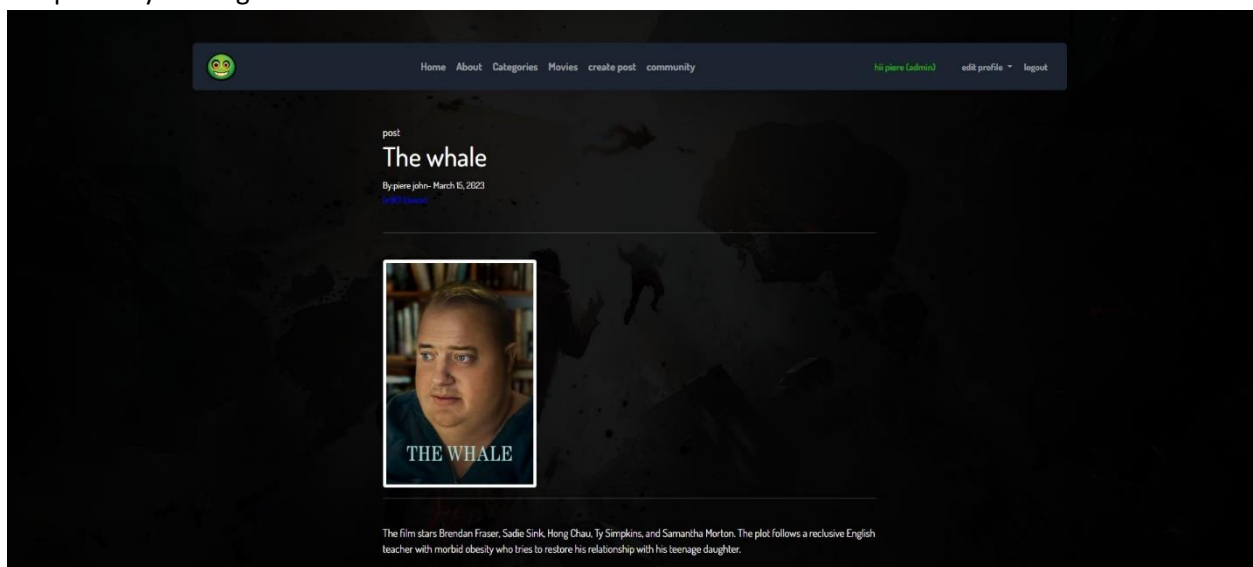

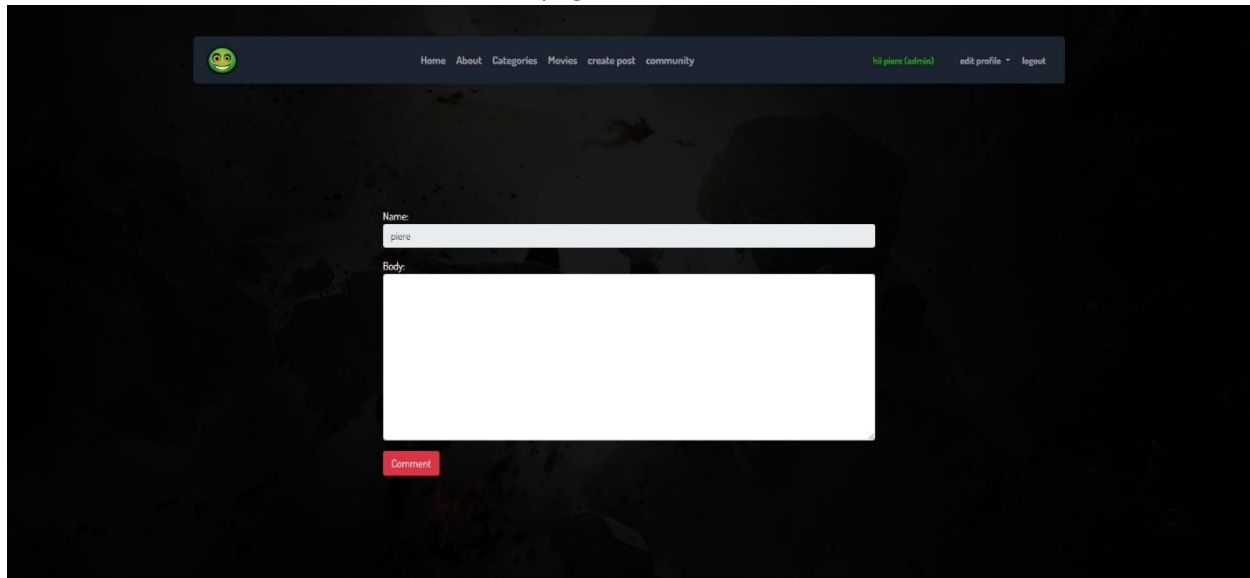

Now we are in the detail page we can see the title of the post and created by who and when and again the two bottoms of delete and edit then we have the poster of the moves and then the body and when we scroll down we will find the comment section

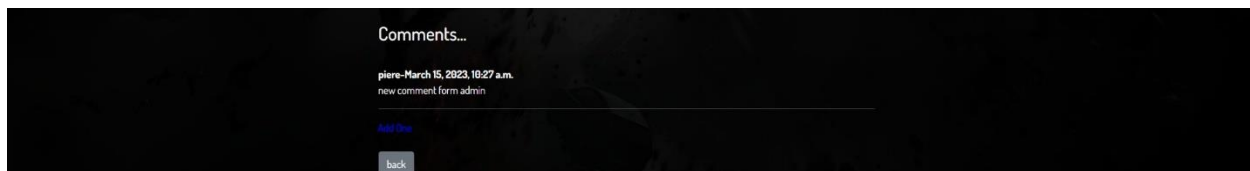

We will see that there is no comment so their is a message with no comment yet
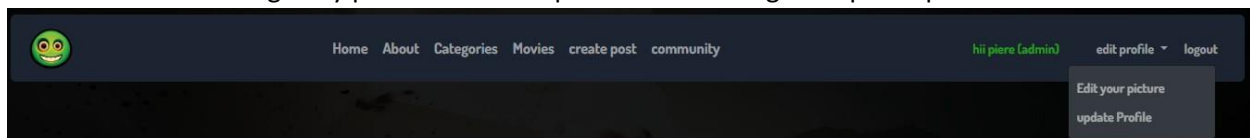

If we click add one we will send to comment page

Now we are in the comment page first we will se the name witch we cant change its is only read and we have the body witch we can write any thing we want then click comment to submit your comment
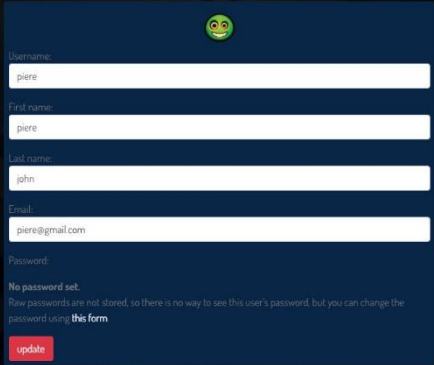

It will redirect us to the detail page of the move

As we can see the comment has ben added with the name and date and body

Now we want to change any personal data or password we can go to update profile

By click on update profile will send us to this form which we can change the username ,first name ,last name , email and password
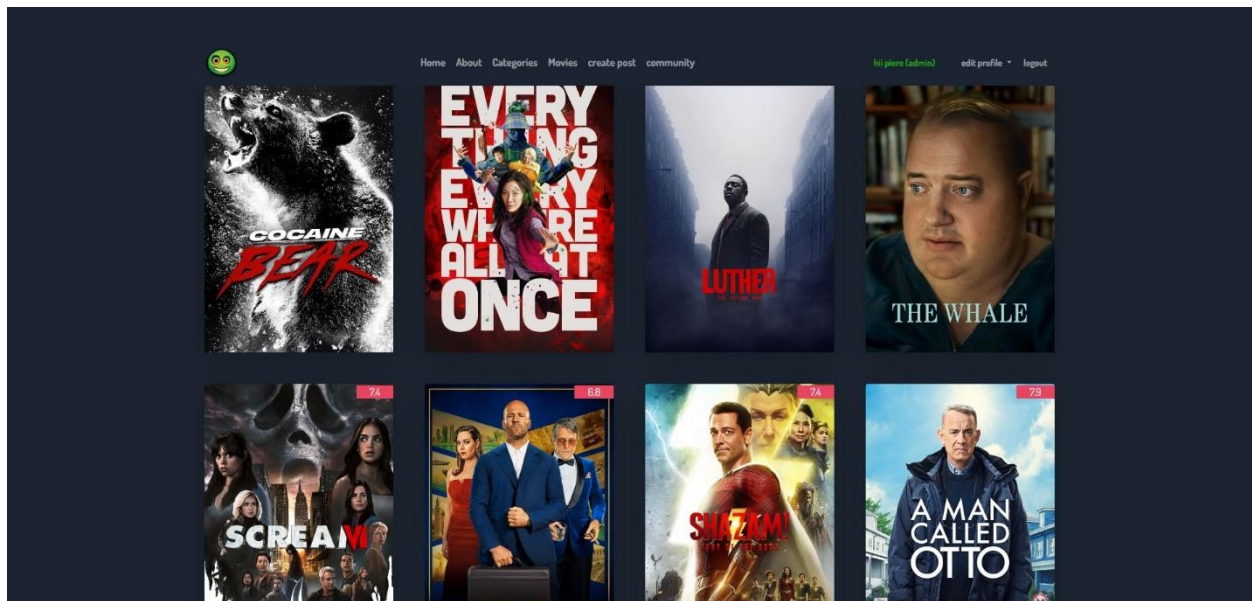

after we changed what we want we can click on update and if we want to change the password we click on this form to change only the password

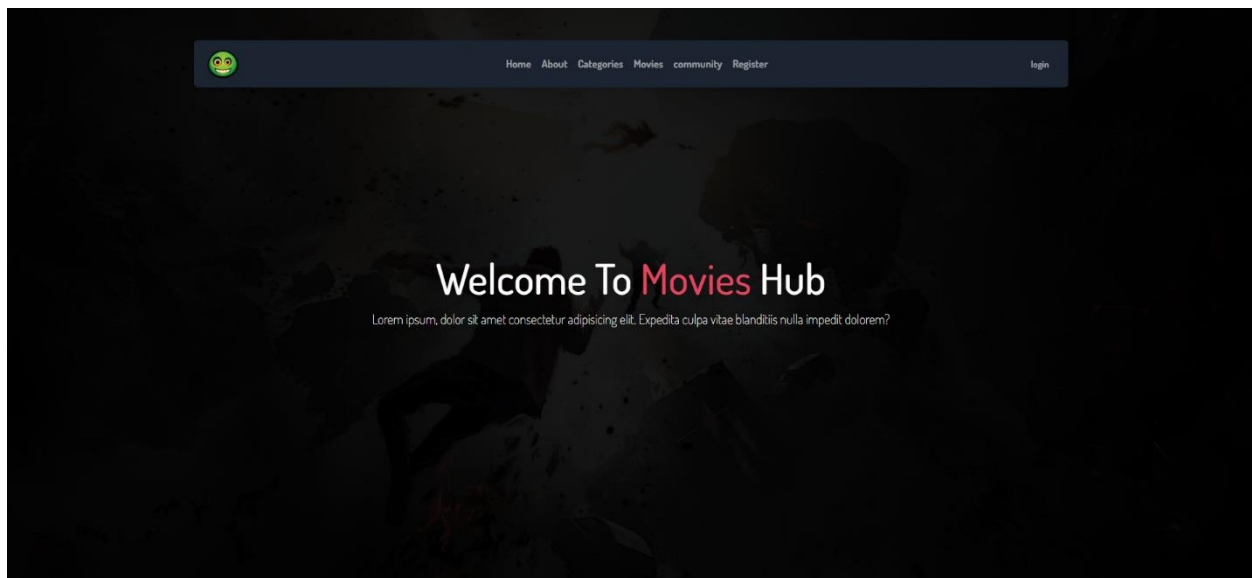

Here we can change the password and after click of update

Finaly we have the movies section with updating api of the movies

After we finished we can click on logout bottom to logout from the website

And it will redirect us to the home page that's all ♥ ♥